Dear Participants,

Greetings from AIMA–India Case Research Centre (ICRC)!

Welcome to the AIMA–ICRC India Case League 2026 – South Zone Competition, being organised in collaboration with ICFAI Business School, Bengaluru.

The competition will assess students' business knowledge, analytical abilities, strategic thinking, problem-solving skills and presentation capabilities.

Level 1: Business and Management Quiz

All registered participants will take an online Business and Management Quiz covering management fundamentals, contemporary business developments and corporate affairs.

Based on their performance in Level 1, teams will be screened for Level 2. The organisers will announce the results in the competition hall and publish them on the competition portal. Qualifying teams will then proceed to Level 2 – Case Analysis and Presentation.

Level 2: Case Selection and Preparation

Each qualifying team may select any one case from those made available by AIMA–ICRC.

Teams must download and study their selected case and prepare a PowerPoint presentation addressing all three major case questions, the central management problem, strategic alternatives, their recommended strategy and a feasible execution plan.

Teams must use only the supplied case information and exhibits. Clearly labelled calculations, projections and reasonable assumptions based on these materials are permitted. External data and subsequent developments are not permitted.

Case Preparation Facilities

A hall, 6 rooms and two computer laboratories will be available for case preparation. Students are strongly advised to bring their own laptops and chargers.

Presentation rooms will be allocated and communicated by the ICFAI Business School organising team. Each room will have a smart board and a dedicated coordinator to assist with technical arrangements and presentation sequencing.
